Dear Ms. McDermott;

I am writing to request permission for the Princeton University Art Museum to place eight pole banners on Nassau Street on Saturday, January 11, 2014 and remove them on Saturday, May 17, 2014.

These banners will promote the upcoming art museum exhibit: 500 Years of Italian Master Drawings from the Princeton University Art Museum. (Exhibition details attached)

The banners were designed by the Princeton University Art Museum. They will be printed by Clarici Graphics who provides the Art Museum banners on campus. The banners will be installed by Signature Signs (formerly Sign A Rama). The Art Museum would like to alternate two different designs. I have attached both designs.

As in the past, the banners will be approximately 3 feet wide by 6 feet long, and placed on the eight lampposts along Nassau Street where brackets are already installed.

Please let me know if you have any questions or concerns.

Thanks for your assistance in coordinating this.

Regards,

500 Years of Italian Master Drawings from the Princeton University Art Museum

Saturday, January 25, 2014 - Sunday, May 11, 2014

500 Years of Italian Master Drawings from the Princeton University Art Museum focuses on the renowned collection of more than 1,000 Italian drawings at the Princeton University Art Museum, which includes significant works by artists Luca Cambiaso, Guercino, and Giambattista Tiepolo, as well as masterpieces by Carpaccio, Michelangelo, and Modigliani. Featuring more than 90 rarely seen highlights, this exhibition will provide a fresh examination of Italian draftsmanship by mapping issues and concepts such as technique, function, and connoisseurship. A fully illustrated catalogue accompanies the exhibition.
